NEW YEAR'S.

As a matter of news, and for the convenience of those interested, the Times desires to publish tomorrow it will pass away a most eventful and of all the ladies of Roan-ke and vicinity to do this the ladies are requested to the names of those Who will assist them by eight o'clock this evening. these notices, and the list will be of valuable aid to those making calls.

THE SOUTH AND HER POSSIBILI-TIES.

The wave of prosperity which has bien sweeping over the South promises. the grandest results for this long suif ering and long neglected section, but there should be no cessation of good work if we expect to realize all which the future seems to have in store for us. While efforts are being in the to attract Northern and European cap ital here for developing our mines and increasing our manufactories, we must not lose sight of the fact that building up our waste places and adding to the number of our farms is also of great importance. To do this means the furnishing of homes, of comfort and prosperity to millions, who might otherwise be eking out an unsatisfactory existence in the crowded districts of the North, or in the unremunerative agricultural sections of England and the Teutonic countries of Europe. With a climate of unequaled salubrity, and with a fertile, well watered and well timbered soil, millions of thrifty settiers could find just the homes they need in the states South of Mason and Dixon's line and east of the Mississippi river. Eagland with 32 590,397 acres, had a population in 1881 of 24,612,331, while whom 600,000 were colored. In this ever used. Respectfully, W. D. BLOXHAM. state the conditions for existence are equal to those of England with its 24 .-612.391 souls, and on the same ratio of population we should have about 16 portion of population in the other easy to see what a splendid field for work and for settlement is here afforded. Everything that Eigland his can be produced in Virginia, and much that will not grow there can be cultivited successfully here. It would be vears before such density of population could be reach d and perhaps it is not to be desired; but an average population of 6 000 000 each in the states of Virginia Wast Virginia, Tenne-sea. Kentucky. Ala bama, North Carolina, South Carolina Goorgia, Florida and Messessia would aggregate 69,000.000 sides 10,000,900 more than the consus of the whole United States showed in 1880

The study of this subject might becontinued indefinitely, and at every step the resources and possibilities of the South would become more astonishing. With a country so beautiful and so bountifully blessed, the men of the South should be the most patriotic in the world, and they should begin the new year with a determination to increased exertion towards the building up and development of their beloved section

THE NEW YEAR.

Today is the hist one of 1889 With morning (New Year's,) a complete list fateful year. What the new one will bring, Providence has wisely left who will receive on that day. In order only to conjecture. That it will not leave a record of disaster as large and terrible send in their names and addresses; also as the one just closing is most devoutly to be wished.
